Speaker Shows How the Gospel Truth Is at the Root of Modern Living.

Perhaps no single feature of the present session at Union Theological Seminary has afforded as much genuine pleas ure and profit to the students and their assembled friends as the splendid fectures which are being delivered by Bishop Alpheus W. Wilson. The topics which he has been discused, and wil discuss to-morrow and Tuesday nights, are concerned wholly with the cause of missions povement which is now being made by the united Christian forces toward the evangelization of the nations of the far East. This cause has taken a vital hold upon the young men of Union Seminary, a number of whom go each year upon their graduation to the foreign mission fields

Bishop Wilson's insight into the his Bishop Wilson's insight into the his-tory and growth of missions was clearly shown in his first lectures, the third of which was delivered last night on "The Historical Development of Missions from the Time of the Apostles." The effect of the presence and aggressive work of the church can scarcely be estimated, for it transformed the wild and barbaric tribes of the middle ages into submissive servants of the Gospel, and substantially laid the foundation for subsequent civilization. This transforming effect was due to the power of the great truth of the Gospel of Jesus Christ as the divine Son of God. Before this truth all opposition was overcome, and the great inheritance has come down to the western world. The development of modern science, the establishment of modern institutions and purification of social and civil life; the growth of the idea of human libeaty, and the opening up of all fields of activity to all clisses are due to the wonderful influence of this truth upon the human heart.

The event was given in honor of President Edwin A, Alderman by the Eta Chepter of the Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity. Dr. Alderman was juitlated into the mysterles of this society during his student days at North Carolina University.

Al 9:30 o'clock thirty odd men, representing the sixteen Greek letter societies at Virginia, met the new execultive of the institution in a spacious hall on the campus. It was one of the happlest occasions of the scholastic year, brightened by the characteristic wit of the beloved first president of the school.

A marked trait of President Alderman's character, which the students of the University have airendy discovered, is his broad sympathy and ease of access to the young men who come within the reach of his gracious influence. Never did one who has figured so largely in movements of public note appear to better advantage than he in this students' banquet, given in his honor by those who make the present Eta Chapter of Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity.
